How do Moms Remember Postpartum Depression?
If you are a woman who experienced a postpartum mood or anxiety disorder and your child is currently older than 13 years of age, you may qualify for this study.

How Mothers Remember Postpartum Depression

While there is a good deal of research about new mothers and postpartum depression, there is very little research about how the experience impacts women over their life span.

The purpose of this study is to understand how mothers with older children remember the experience of a postpartum mood or anxiety disorder.

Participation
One phone interview at your convenience.

Total time commitment approximately 1-2 hours over several weeks.

Are you eligible?
- English speaking
- Female adult
- Experienced a mood or anxiety disorder postpartum depression, bipolar disorder, postpartum anxiety
- Your child is currently 13 years-old or older
- Willingness to participate in the study

For more information, email or call:
Walker Ladd, PhD
Primary Investigator
wladd@saybrook.edu
818-304-1873

Saybrook University 55 Eureka Street Pasadena, CA 91103